"I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference . . ."

—Robert Frost

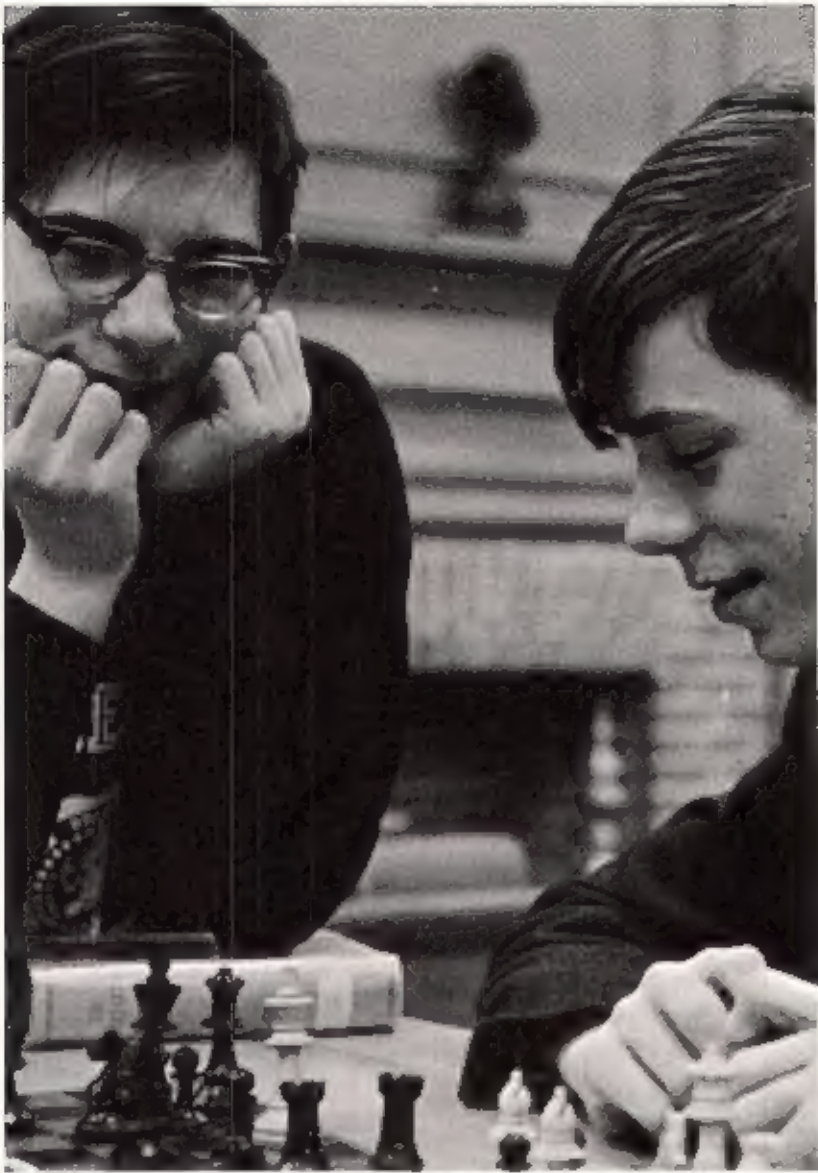

"Picture yourself on a boat, on a river,
With tangerine trees and marmalade skies . . ."

"The world . . .
 Hath really neither joy, nor love, nor light,
 Nor certitude, nor peace, nor help for pain;
 And we are here as on a darkling plain
 Swept with confused alarms of struggle and flight,
 Where ignorant armies clash by night."

—Matthew Arnold

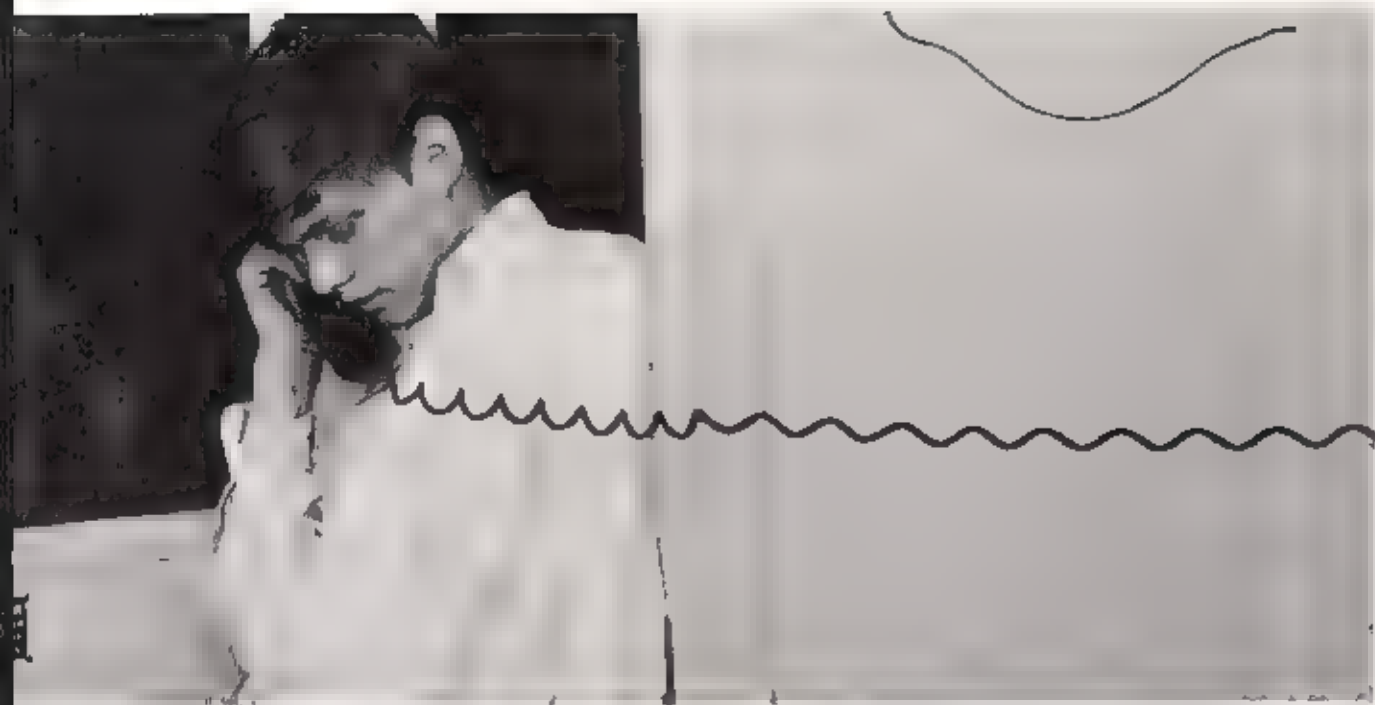

"All of us turning away from solace
From the lonely room where the self must be honest,
All of us turning from being alone (at best Boring) because what we want most is to be Interested . . ."

—Delmore Schwartz

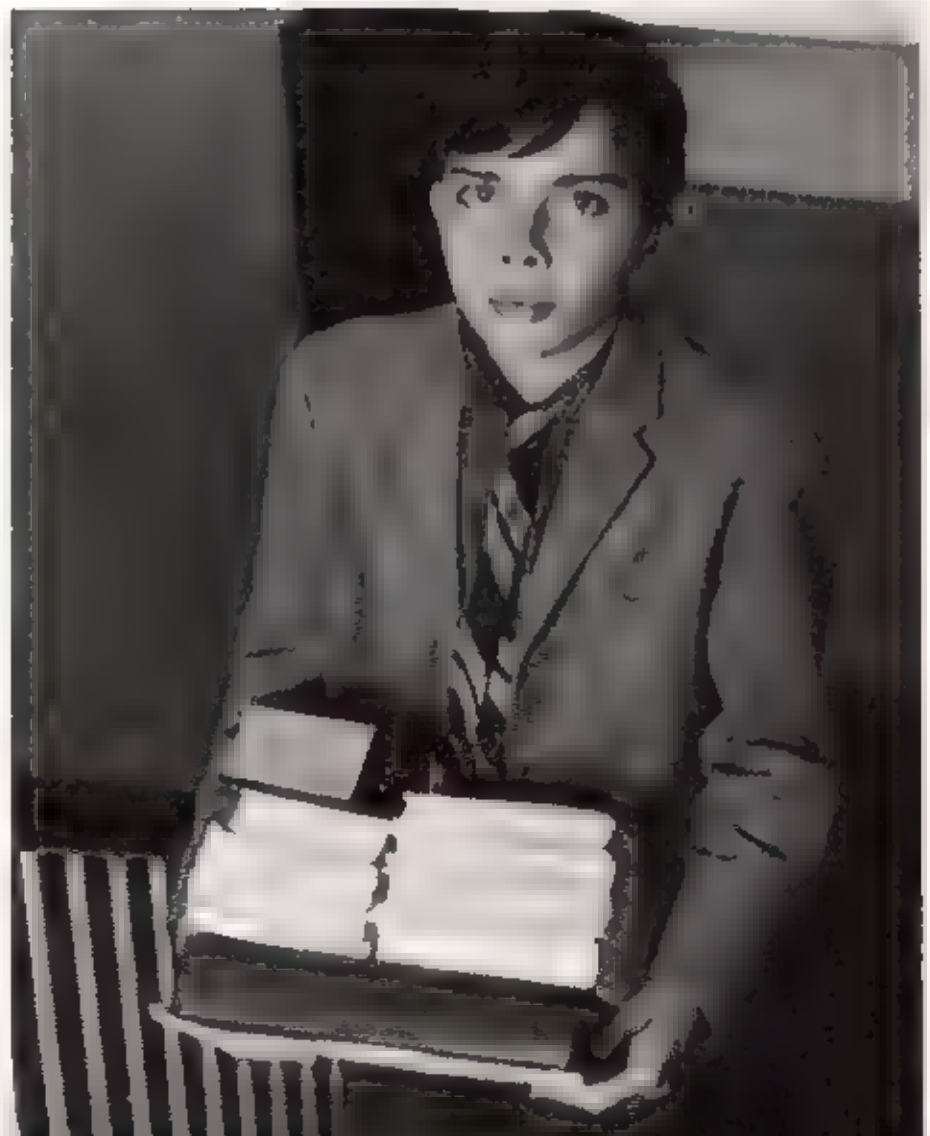

"you shall above all things be glad and young.
For if you're young, whatever life you wear it will become you; and if you are glad whatever's living will yourself become."

—e. e. cummings

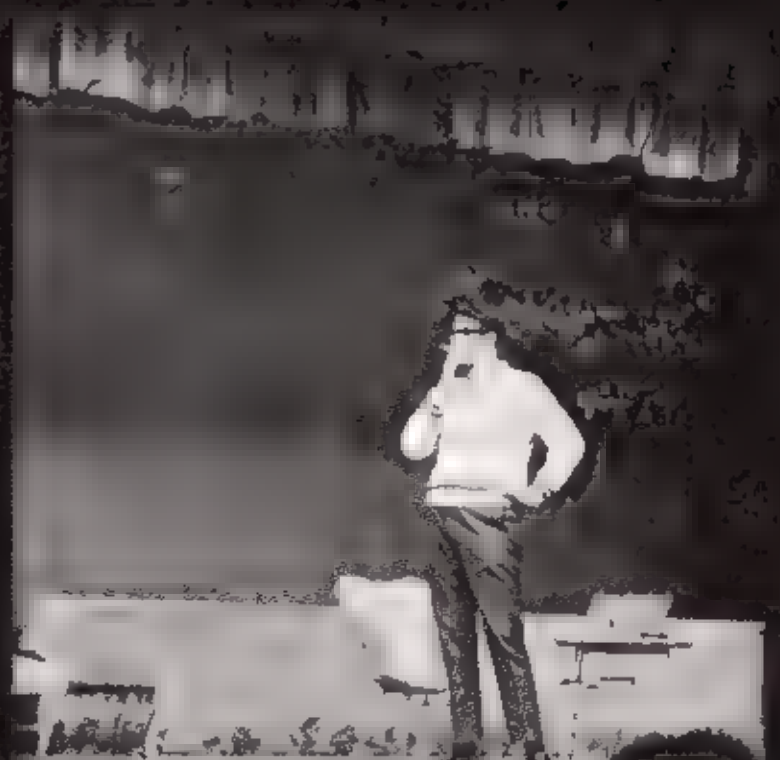

"The woods are lovely, dark and deep
But I have promises to keep
And miles to go before I sleep . . .
And miles to go before I sleep."

FACULTY

FATHER VINCENT F. BEATTY, S.J., Rector of Georgetown Preparatory School, holds the responsibility for the overall operation of the school. After serving for ten years as President of Loyola College in Baltimore and for two years as Director of the Manresa-on-Severn Retreat House, Father Beatty came to Prep in June of 1966. He has been Director of the American Red Cross (1955-61), President of the Maryland Association of Independent Colleges (1961-63), and is an honorary chief of the Choctaw Indians. When he is not on the road raising funds, Father Beatty can be found at work in his office. His door is always wide open in hearty welcome to student, parent, faculty member and, on occasion, to a "knight of the road".

Among his hobbies Father Beatty numbers gadgetry and amateur psychiatry. Yet there is little wonder that he never finds time for either, as he tries to fulfill the duties of Rector of Georgetown Prep, Superior to the Jesuit Community there, and President of the Newcomen Society. These seemingly diverse commitments are woven into one in the person of Prep's Rector—to the great benefit of all Prep students.

FATHER JOSEPH B. DOTY, S.J., is a docer. Perhaps the most influential man in the school, Father Doty always finds time to deal with individual problems of the students.

Last summer Father Doty attended a Conference on Secondary Schools in Cheshire, England; when not continent-hopping, he can be found in his new office or over in the swimming pool at his favorite form of exercise. As Headmaster of Georgetown Prep, he has initiated many significant changes in the curriculum and administration of the school. The division of each Form into four groups and the increase in the number of elective courses have been among the improvements made since Father Doty's arrival in 1962.

Rector and President

In addition to swimming, Father enjoys playing the piano, and on occasion he can be persuaded to sing some of the old favorites. Father Doty is a living example of the phrase, "A man of action".

"He's the oldest man in the house.", says Fr. Simmons of FATHER THOMAS J. DUGAN, S.J., Prep's assistant headmaster. Fr. Dugan, who also serves as prefect of discipline, is constantly on the go, administering to every need of the school. He has acquired the respect and admiration of the older students, a fact which is often borne out by the frequent visits paid him by alumni. Students enjoy his reminiscences of past experiences at Prep during his twenty-one years here. On his birthday students honor him with such useful gifts as Bermuda shorts, combs, hair tonic, and "youth elixir". He is constantly followed around the campus by his faithful Labrador retriever, Randy, who was born equipped for the religious life with his own natural black cassock.

Fr. Dugan has made the student body at Prep his primary concern. In fact, his life is Georgetown Prep, and it could have nothing better going for it than his attention.

Mr. James Adler, English

MR. JAMES ADLER, one of Prep's youngest teachers, has also proven himself one of the most able and imaginative. Mr. Adler, who teaches English to Juniors and Seniors, is also the Moderator of the Drama Club. It was he who was in large part responsible for helping the Club achieve its present status. That his talents are appreciated by people outside Prep is evidenced by the fact that Mr. Adler is engaged to be married this June.

FATHER ANTHONY McHALE, S.J., in his first year as Senior Master, has become one of the most popular teachers at Prep; moreover, he commands a good deal of respect from his students. Father McHale's specialty is the expert advice which he has given the Seniors in relation to college applications. In addition to his counseling duties, he teaches Religion to the Juniors and Seniors, and fills the shoes of Mr. R. Kenny Burns as Junior X-Latin instructor.

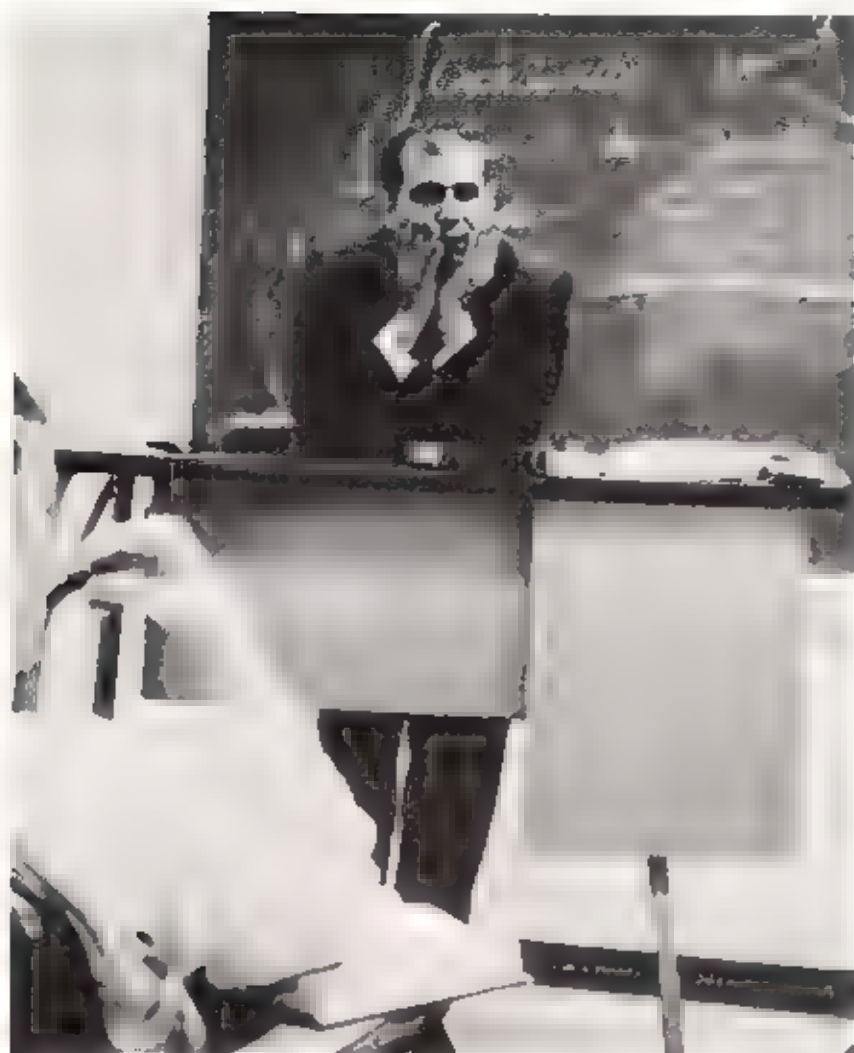

MR. EDWARD DOUGHERTY, S.J., teaches Latin to Juniors and Seniors. The soft-spoken scholastic has an air of serenity about him; he goes about his daily tasks, however, with the drive and dedication to detail which are typical of a Latin scholar. That this description of him is particularly glowing could be explained by the fact that, as Moderator of the yearbook, Mr. Dougherty must pass on every work which goes into print.

MR. HOMAYOUN HOMAYOUNI, who founded the X-Math program at Prep and still teaches the Senior AP course as well as Freshman and Sophomore Math, values example as a tool for instruction. A devout Moslem, he nevertheless insists on a daily prayer before each of his classes. This year Mr. Homayouni has taken over sponsorship of the Boosters' and Chess Clubs, lending his enthusiasm and natural joie de vivre to both.

MR. JAMES JOYCE, S.J., teaches History and English to the lower forms; he also serves as Hoya Saxa moderator. In between these diverse activities, Mr. Joyce finds time to drive a school bus.

History is indisputably DR. PAUL LOCHER's bailiwick at Prep, and his alone. He is head of the History Department, moderator of the Current Events Club, and teaches courses in American, World and European History. "The Doctor" has a style and rapport all his own. He gives a unique character to his classes with anecdotes of life in such far-flung places as Paris, Istanbul and Niles, Michigan. Now a respected member of our academic community, Dr. Locher adds a unique cosmopolitan flavor to the campus.

Dr. Paul Locher, History

Mr. James Joyce, S.J., History, English

Mr. Matthew Miskic, French

MR. MATTHEW MISKIC, after only a few years, is somewhat of an institution around Prep. His Old World charm and brilliant logic have given him a reputation as a teacher to be reckoned with; moreover, he is a man of subtle humor, appreciated only by the more discriminating among the students at Prep. Nevertheless, he is perhaps one of the most popular teachers here. He often delights his students with stories of his dramatic escape from behind the Iron Curtain, and the concise rhetoric which enabled him to win his case before the World Court. Mr. Miskic is, truly, an interesting individual.

FATHER VINCENT dePAUL ALAGIA, S.J., Prep's Student Counselor, returned to the school this year after a year-long leave of absence at Catholic University. Father Alagia, whose jocular and sense of perspective have made him a well-respected—and well-liked—member of the Faculty, has proven himself an able administrator as well as a competent teacher. But Father Alagia's chief asset as an educator is that he cares. Many students have been the beneficiaries of his understanding counsel.

MR. CHARLES SULLIVAN, S.J., has been one of the most active supporters of Prep's athletic program. He is a versatile man: in addition to running the Intramurals program, Mr. Sullivan teaches Math to Freshmen, Juniors and Seniors. In his spare time, he is an avid fan of the Baltimore Colts and Orioles.

MME. GERMAINE NAHMIA is the first woman teacher in Prep's history; as such, she is somewhat of a pioneer. Considered solely on her merits as a teacher, she has proven herself more than equal to the challenge—using the latest Language Lab techniques along with her own thorough knowledge of the French language. And Madame Nahmias has added to the basic grammar and vocabulary of the language she teaches a certain verve, the grace and subtlety which are characteristic of a woman's touch.

MR. MICHAEL CANNIZZARO, the youngest member of the faculty, has shown some of the drive and imagination which betoken a youthful spirit; he has exhibited these qualities in every phase of his life this past year, whether making Chemistry come alive to Juniors and Seniors or coaching the wrestling team.

Another year passes and a Prep institution remains. It is, of course, MR. EDWARD JOYCE, English Teacher par excellence. Formerly a 7th-and-8th-grade teacher, he has accepted the transition to freshman and sophomore English as well as he has undertaken the variety of courses he has taught in a career of some twenty years. Along with the cupola, Top Corridor and Fr. Dugan, Mr. Joyce is a unique and indispensable part of Georgetown Prep.

Rev. Vincent Alagia, S.J., Religion

Mr. Michael Cannizzaro, Chemistry

Mme. Germaine Nahmias, French

Mr. Eugene Nolan, S.J., English

The lithe Jesuit moves about the campus. It is EUGENE NOLAN, S.J., guiding an English class here, moderating the Blue and Gray there. This ubiquitous individual follows his esoteric pursuits, yet puts his mark on many projects around the school. His organizational prowess gave the Blue and Gray a new look, as a highly sophisticated literary magazine; his English classes are nothing less than academic "happenings." Indeed, Mr. Nolan has a vital role to play at Georgetown Prep, and he plays the role well.

FATHER D. BRADLEY MURRAY, S.J., has long been acknowledged as one of Prep's most personable Jesuits. Making his residence on the wing of Senior corridor, he teaches Physics and Mathematics and coaches the golf team. Much of his time this year has been spent bringing computer programming to Prep. He is most likely to be found in the Physics Lab, the computer room or in his room at his favorite hobby—sleeping. A fellow Jesuit has said of him, "Without a doubt, he is one of the best teachers around."

MR. AUGUSTINE COUPE has often been quoted for the line, "A sport for every boy; a boy for every sport." It is an adequate reflection of his ambition for the boys at Prep. His years as Athletic Director bear witness to the enthusiasm which he brings to all his endeavors. And this goes beyond the realm of athletics.

Rev. D. Bradley Murray, S.J., Physics, Mathematics

Mr. Augustine Coupe, Biology

Visit a Biology class sometime and you can see twenty-two years of teaching experience in action. The use of the latest audio-visual aids indicates that Mr. Coupe has not lost his desire to improve as a teacher. His enthusiasm, experience and desire for growth mark him as a man totally devoted to the purposes of this institution.

MR. GEORGE WILLIAMS, S.J., is a bright young man who was snatched by the Jesuits from a pastoral existence in Baton Rouge, La. Rumor has it that a traumatic childhood experience caused him to become a scholastic. He is best known for his white socks, which have become a landmark around the school; his computer-like intelligence, however, enables him to be a first-rate Mathematics teacher.

FATHER THEODORE E. A. BRADY, S.J., one of the unsung heroes of Georgetown Prep's faculty, is a class master and perennial Latin teacher whose knowledge of the Romans and their tongue inspires young minds. He has had a hand in every phase of student life: whether in the classroom or up in the stands at a football game, it's always Father Brady who lends his active support. Father Brady attends to every detail of Prep life.

MR. MICHAEL SEHLER, S.J., otherwise known as the "jolly red giant", is new at Prep this year. He teaches Latin and Greek with the poise and finesse of a master; when Mr. Sehler is not at his academic pursuits, he can often be found playing basketball or touch football.

Mr. Michael Sehler, S.J., Latin, Greek

FATHER EDWARD I. BURNS, S.J. is very simply an able and diligent teacher. He brings to Prep his many years of teaching experience at Georgetown University, and is now a Senior class master and a religion teacher to Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. He works quietly around the campus, but results are evident in such things as a Christmas food drive and tutoring programs for underprivileged children. In his first year here Father Burns is known and respected as a dedicated and concerned individual.

MR. DAVID SAUTER, S.J., is one of the most conscientious teachers at Georgetown Prep. He teaches Latin and English to Sophomores and Juniors, and moderates the Debate Club. His time outside of school is occupied perfecting Junior Corridor (where his friends call him "The Toucan") and being a consultant of the House.

MR. THOMAS WRIGHT can rightly be called "The Math Teacher's Math Teacher". His 1967-8 season at Prep caps forty-six continuous semesters of Mathematics classes, with no end in sight. As the moderator of the Math Club and a veteran instructor of almost every grade level and course, whether it be Trig, Algebra, or Analysis, he is well-qualified to be the head of the school's Math Department and a member of the Admissions Committee. A diligent task master yet an expert at classroom repartee, Mr. Wright is sure to be among teachers remembered at any alumni gathering.

Mr. James Fegan, Physical Education

Rev. George Krieger, S.J., Art

FATHER JOSEPH SIMMONS is a puzzle within an enigma. His respect for order and regulation is well-known around Prep; his stint as Moderator of the Student Council, however, has earned him the nickname "The Prince of the Libertines." Father Simmons is known for his affability and devotion to the school. A versatile man he, frequently leads European student tours, and his experiments with new forms of the Liturgy have earned him a reputation as a man devoted to improvement.

MR. JAMES FEGAN has made his mark both on the field and in the classroom. His outstanding performance as Football Coach for the past six years is rivaled only by his dedication to the physical and mental well-being of his Physical Education classes. One of Washington's best coaches, Mr. Fegan is also respected as a sincere and dedicated individual.

FATHER GEORGE KRIEGER, S.J., is a man with a mission: art for the masses at Georgetown Prep. His art studio in the old gym is a mecca for aspiring young artists. A convert to the Catholic faith and one of the rare Jesuits who never learned Latin, Father Krieger came to Prep two years ago. He now has ambitious plans for art programs for all the students. His courses in the fine arts have added a new dimension to the school's curriculum.

TIM IMERY, first Class of '68 dropout, now works for Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer, where he plans to become Vice-President next year. BRETT CRAMER, another man who gave up early in the game, will attend the South Texas Divinity School next year. TILL SNEAD was recently elected Man of the Year by the Picayune, Mississippi chapter of the NAACP. BOB LANG was a surprise National Merit Scholar at Quantico High. MIKE FAHEY is living it up in Indiana, where the drinking age is 18; DAVE TRINITE recently made an advance study of the Ablative Property of Mathematics. Confrere LUIS MONTEALEGRE is working as an artist in New York's East Village. Sophomore ex-classmates seem to have met with unusual success, led by BOB ARNOLD, who is now amusing millions in Chicago with his animal imitations. BOB NICKE is at Fordham Prep, where he was recently selected for the prestigious position of Assistant Manager of the JV Cross-Country Team. FRANK ZAYAS has found his way to Hollywood, where he is writing dialogue for Bill Dana. FRANCIS LONG is at Military School, where he says the strict discipline and ascetic life have made a new man out of him; and JOHN BURKE hasn't been heard of since he left. LENNIE CODOMO was only at Prep a short time, but he lives on in the hearts of his ex-classmates (AND in the official records of the Headmaster's Office). JIM BYRD is at Malvern Prep, where he is passing English.

HANK DOBERMAN is alive in Argentina.

Favret, J. McAllister, T. Smith, M. Whalen, B. Connole, Head Coach J. Fegan, S. Hurleigh

After the team had assembled in mid-August for the beginning of football camp, Mr. Fegan told them that due to what appeared to be a general lack of talent and depth this year, he was not expecting too much. He would only be disappointed if the team ever lost a game. The Hoyas did lose a game, but at the season's end, Mr. Fegan was far from disappointed.

Georgetown opened its grid season against Western in what seemed to be anything but a contest between two championship teams. The Raiders' excellent quarterback, Floyd Butler, was hampered consistently by penalties, while the Hoyas could not make five yards without fumbling the ball. In the third quarter, Western broke the scoring ice with a fifteen yard pass from Butler. The kick for the extra point was good and the Hoyas were down 7-0. But in the fourth quarter the Prep offense finally began to move as it staged a 36-yard drive with Sean Hallahan scoring from 8 yards out. On the ensuing conversion attempt there was a pileup on the goal line. A roar from the Western stands signaled Prep's defeat. By one point, Georgetown had lost to the future undefeated Interhigh champions.

Despite the disappointment of the opening loss, the Hoyas came back the following week and defeated Sidwell Friends with a punishing defense and a sparkling offense, led by Junior quarterback Bobby Dwyer. The tone of the game was set early, when on the first series of downs defensive end John McAllister forced three losses in a row on the Quakers. When Prep took over the ball, Bobby Dwyer justified his starting role with the best day of his career, rolling out for more than 125 yards and personally accounting for two of Prep's three touchdowns. The unrelenting Prep defense held the Quakers scoreless, giving the Hoyas an 18-0 victory, their first step toward the IAC championship.

A non-league game against St. Anthony's was next on the schedule, and Prep seemed anything but ready for it. Despite several costly penalties, the Tonies drove to the Hoyas' five yard line the first time they got the ball, and seemed almost certain to score. But then linebacker Marc McKenna came out of nowhere to intercept a pass and run 95 yards for a Prep touchdown. The stunned Tonies never got their wind back as the Hoyas moved the ball at will and scored three more times on two pass receptions by Mike Sexton and a one yard plunge by Johnny Joseph. The final score was 33-0, and the Prep eleven was looking stronger every game.

St. Stephen's came to Prep two weeks later for the Hoyas' second league contest of the season. The Saints gave Prep a scare, as they started moving the ball on short sideline tosses. The Prep defense seemed ineffective against them, and the Saints scored the first touchdown to lead, 7-0. But then the Prep offense came alive. Behind the solid blocking of pulling guards Matt McKenna and Brian Yore, halfback Steve Saxon began to run like never before, picking up 114 yards at nearly nine yards a carry. Fullback Mike Schroder hit the line hard when sure gains were needed, scoring two TD's on plunges. Steve Saxon scored two touchdowns—one on a short run and another when he cut in front of the safety and snagged a Dwyer pass, outrunning the defensive backs to score the touchdown. The final score was 29-7 and Georgetown Prep was 2-0 in the IAC.

Reggie shakes the ball loose.

The next game was the big game, Homecoming against St. Albans; the Hoyas were out to revenge a 14-6 defeat last year. Prep was sky-high, but started poorly, spotting St. Albans a 6-0 lead. Then the onslaught began. Pete Carnes, their running sensation, was no longer sensational. Sean Hallahan's halfback passes wobbled but were still caught; fullback Reggie Van Stockum scored his first touchdown of the year, although he was playing defensive tackle at the time. Prep's defense could score from anywhere on the field, as well as its offense. The one-sided game ended with the score at 69-6.

About the most exciting thing about the St. James game was the trip to Hagerstown. The first team ran up a four-touchdown lead in the first quarter, and then the reserves took over. The final score, 37-16, made Prep 4-0 in the IAC.

Prep traveled to Landon for the IAC championship game. Things were tense as the Hoyas made several mistakes in the first quarter, losing the ball four times within their own 20 yard line. However, a stout defense prevented the Bears from cashing in on all but one of these breaks. Just as in the St. Albans game, the Hoyas trailed by a touchdown in the early minutes of the game. Just as in the St. Albans game, the Hoyas came back strongly. Joe Sheehan opened the scoring for Prep with a twisting, turning punt return of 64 yards. Mike Schroder put power and balance into the attack, gaining 54 yards and making key yardage. For his performance, he was named the Prep School Player of the Week by the Washington Post. The final score came to 39-7, and Georgetown Prep was the 1967 IAC champions in football.

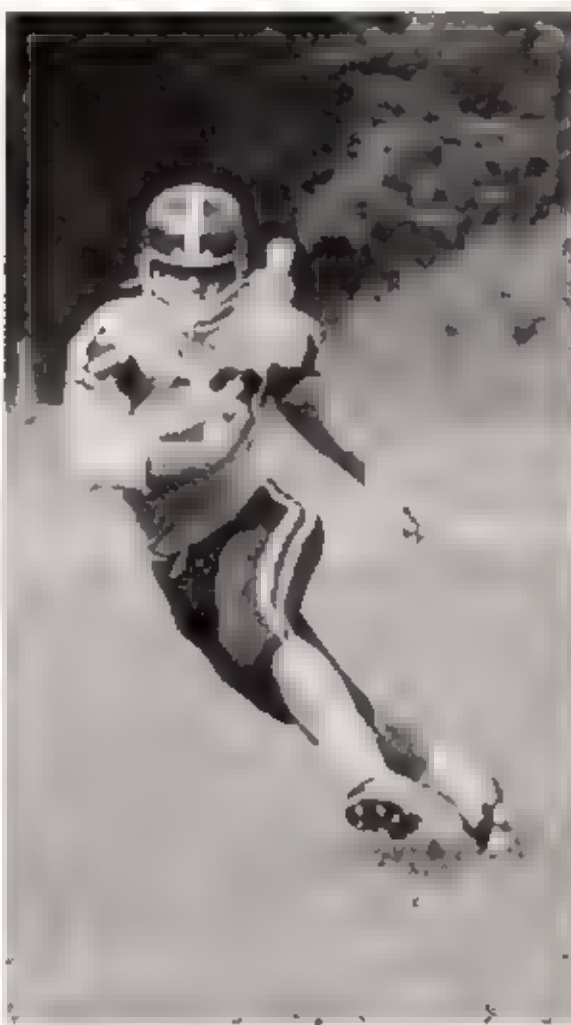

Against Gonzaga we were out to prove something. At the top of the IAC, we had to show we could handle the "tougher" Catholic League teams. Center Kevin Nealon predicted the final score would be 33-6, because that had been our average score up to that point. On the field, two things became readily apparent: Gonzaga was big, tough, and fast, but Georgetown Prep was a better team. They had a weight advantage, but the Hoyas displayed such perfect execution that it didn't matter: on Steve Saxon's 25 yard touchdown sweep the only Gonzaga player left standing was the defensive halfback on the opposite side of the field. Saxon later scored another touchdown on a 76 yard pass play from Bobby Dwyer. Defensively, Jim Moore proved he could handle anything thrown at him, while Joe Sheehan and Johnny Joseph stymied Gonzaga's passing combination of Collins-to-Marshall. The final score was 33-6, as Kevin Nealon had predicted before the game, and Georgetown Prep had shown decisively that they were not merely the best of a "weak" league; they could take on the best of any league.

J.V. FOOTBALL

Over the course of the past three years Prep's J.V.'s have proven too tough for their opponents. Again this year they showed their superiority by impressive victories over teams such as Landon, St. Albans, and Sidwell Friends. The greatest thrills for the team this year were their triumph over Bishop Carroll and their sweet victory over Gonzaga. Although we played as a team, many players could be singled out for their individual performances. Promising young backs such as Bob Maholchic, John Lynch, and John Gibadlo contributed greatly to the team's success, but they couldn't have done it without the forceful blocking of the aggressive line. Tackle Woody Dorsey and guard Dave Kelly were the mainstays of the offensive and defensive lines. But the hero of most of the games was John McKnight whose numerous touchdown romps led the team to victory. The team's success would not have been possible without the fine coaching of Pat Heenan and Jack White. We look forward to seeing a number of these boys on the Varsity next year.

145 FOOTBALL

This year a new team was formed, known informally as the 145's. Although the only restriction was an age limit of 16, the name stuck. The main reason behind its formation was to give experience to those players who would have spent the season on the J.V. bench.

Through the coaching of Bob Abbo (Prep '63), the team was instilled with the meaning of effort and spirit. After four weeks of practice, Coach Abbo was confident that his team was ready to meet the opposition. Among his outstanding players were fullback Steve Ring, halfbacks Ed Cullen and Freddie O'Connor, and quarterback Tim Ruane. This backfield did not overshadow a strong line composed of Steve Parker, and Tim Ferris. Once the season got underway the team drove to the IAC championship, suffering only one loss, to Carroll

Although defeated twice, this year's Lightweight team had a successful season. Coach "Dutch" Usilaner fielded a first string team composed of linemen Powell, Morton, Kommer, McInerney, Smyka, and Nee, and backs Smith, Cullen, Decamara, Marshall, and Boland. Not allowing setbacks to discourage the team, Coach Usilaner led them to a solid 4-2 season. Utilizing Dutch's picturesque play names, such as "popcorn pass", and "wagon train run", in order to confuse the defense, the Lightweight's offense scored often. The defensive team held the opponents to a minimum of scores. It all adds up to excellent preparation for the 1971 IAC championship.

CROSS-COUNTRY

A Georgetown Prep cross-country team was first discussed in the Spring of 1967. The idea was conceived by coach "Dutch" Usilaner, in order that Prep runners might have more experience in competition running and longer periods of workout each year.

That fall John Dennis accepted the burden of organizing the team. His campaign of induction was aided by the welcomed suggestion of drafting some of the Varsity basketball players. Mr. Coupe provided persuasion with such slogans as "A good basketball player is a good runner." This addition to the team was suitable in both quantity and in ability. The season started with long strenuous workouts. The team varied in size depending on various conditions.

The backbone of the team was John Dennis, who was not only captain but also coach. His strong efforts at each meet were backed up by Greg Gannon, Brian Conley, and Greg Boyland. Although not all runners gained personal victory, each added a great deal of spirit: runners such as Jim Baker, Dan Walsh, Rick Boyland, Kevin Reilly, Chuck Ebel, and Phil O'Donoghue. Georgetown's first cross-country team never gained any real victory, but, despite this, all of the members of the group would like to give special thanks to their captain and coach John Dennis.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The sad fact about this year's varsity basketball season is that it was a disappointment. Although they did win an IAC co-championship, the team never reached the heights they were deemed capable of. The '67 Hoyas had compiled a 20-3 record on their way to a league championship, and this year's team, with four out of five starters returning, and a promising crop of J.V.'s coming up, was expected to equal or improve upon the record of the year before. However, a tougher schedule and a few bad breaks added up to a 13-10 season.

The Hoyas started the season well, beating St. Anthony's and looking like the team everybody thought they could be. Bob Dwyer and Rob Rakowski led a surge in the last two minutes as the Hoyas wiped out a five point deficit en route to a 66-55 victory. After an 85-40 romp over weak St. Albans, Prep took on Gonzaga in a crucial non-league contest. The Eagles had beaten us last year, and were currently ranked ninth in the city. Here fate first began to thwart the Hoyas. A flu epidemic struck the team, and at one time or another nine of the players were sick. By game time all but one of the starters were ready, albeit not in top form. For most of the game the lead fluctuated until Charley Howard's hot hand finally put the game out of reach for the Eagles. Bob Rakowski produced his finest game of the season with a high for the game of 21 points. Far from discouraged the Hoyas next overcame Wilson led by Kevin Byrd's 17 points.

Then came what each player recalls as the Richmond debacle. Though deprived of the services of Mike Schroder and Phil O'Donoghue, the Prep squad journeyed to the Benedictine Tourney confident of their ability to win. Three days and three losses later the team returned thoroughly discouraged. Though there would be other high points, they never seemed to regain their winning spirits completely. The only bright spots in this tournament were the consistent play of Greg Gannon and Dan Walsh.

One week and 250 wind sprints later the Hoyas returned to league action, defeating St. Stephen's 58-43. However, the following Tuesday St. John's squelched the Hoyas hopes for another victory. Outclassing the Hoyas on offense and beating their smaller foes under the boards the fifth-ranked Johnnies rolled to an 83-50 victory. The team then warmed up for their showdown with Landon by routing St. James 89-31. The Landon game was a heartbreaker. After coming from behind to tie the score, the Hoyas bowed 69-68 in overtime. After another win over hapless St. Albans the Hoyas confronted Friends in a "must" game. Rising to the occasion, Prep parleyed the defense of Bob Dwyer and the hot shooting of Kevin Byrd into a 61-57 win.

Then the team hit the low point of the season. They lost to Friends and St. Anthony's, both teams which they had beaten before. Big Bob Rakowski, the team's indispensable center, twisted his knee and was reduced to only partial efficiency. Our only chance for a share of the title lay in beating Landon. Byrd's season high of 28 points clinched the Episcopal game and provided the Hoyas with much-needed momentum. The big Friday came quickly and Prep's student body caught the now-or-never spirit of the game. Fighting back from a first-half deficit, the Hoyas, led by Marc McKenna, Bob Dwyer and Kevin Byrd, baffled the Bears in a 56-47 win. Our speed and defense had given us the victory.

The now iron five of Scanlan, Ricca, Byrd, Dwyer, and McKenna roared through the remaining regular season games, clinching a co-championship by beating St. James.

A rejuvenated Prep team took part in the St. Stephen's Tournament. Episcopal succumbed 66-32 in the first round. The semi-final matched us against Gonzaga. Never has a team wanted one game as badly as this one. With Al Scanlan and John Ricca playing their hearts out, the Hoyas stayed with the Eagles for nearly the whole game. However, Vince Lebuffe, who seems to make a practice of destroying Prep basketball teams, led Gonzaga to victory, scoring 32 of their 74 points. The eighth-ranked team in the city had proved, at least to the Hoyas, that they deserved their ranking. The following day a listless Prep team lost to Landon, 62-55. For his great scoring, Marc McKenna was named to the all-tournament team.

Kevin Byrd—Kevin was our statistical leader. His uncanny jump shot made him our high scorer. More important, he led the team in rebounding, though only 6'2" tall.

Marc McKenna—Marc was a 5'10" forward. Despite his short stature he worked mostly inside against the big men. Even when double-teamed Marc could always get the shot off.

Greg Gannon—Greg was co-captain and inspirational leader. His fierce determination and tremendous hustle made him a good ballplayer. Greg was outstanding on defense and totally unselfish as a playmaker. A real gentleman off the court, Greg became a tiger on it, as Chris Zima and numerous referees will attest to.

Al Scanlan—Without a doubt Al was the most improved player on the team. From last man Al worked his way up into the starting lineup. Noted mainly for his leaping ability, Al turned shooter to carry the team in the St. Stephen's Tournament.

Dan Walsh—Danny was our scoring man. As sixth man he often came in to give us extra scoring punch and get us running.

Mike Schroder—Mike was our ice-man. He seemed to feel no pressure and was invaluable as a steadying influence on the team. He could be counted on to come up with the big play whenever we needed it.

Bob Rakowski—At 6'6", 220 lbs. Bob was our big man from the start. His twisted knee hurt us more than any of our other injuries. His vital rebounding, defense and scoring made him one of our most valuable players.

Phil O'Donoghue—Our other co-captain, Phil was a constant invalid. Sickness and numerous sprains reduced him below his full capabilities for all but the first few games. In these first few games, his rebounding helped greatly.

Vince Burke—A cool head, Vince always set up the offense and passed the ball around. Although the lightest man on the team, The Thin Man was one of our best rebounders.

John Ricca—John's long arms and good hands made him the premier steal-artist on the team. His play in the second Gonzaga game is a sign of the ability he will exhibit in the next two years.

Coach Tony Carroll—What can I say? No coach at Prep can match his record in the league: two seasons, two championships. He deserves more credit and praise than we can give him. Plagued by bad breaks and close losses all season, Tony brought the team to a co-championship and a respectable record. With four out of five starters returning and J.V. and Frosh stars coming up, he doesn't need our wishes for continued success.

Credit must also be given to John Farah, Brian Yore, Mike Dougherty, and Leon Andris for their invaluable contributions to the team.

J.V. BASKETBALL

To say this year's J.V. team was terrific would be an understatement. Except for unfortunate losses to St. Anthony, Gonzaga, and Sidwell early in the season, this team swept past every opponent. By midseason they had the I.A.C. title wrapped up tight. The team executed plays like a precision time piece. Their "trap" play and their speedy fast breaks baffled adversaries, as well as the crowd. Coach "Dutch" Usilaner deserves no little credit for his superb coaching. Half the credit goes to him.

Nimble and dynamic Tim Vacca paced the team, keeping opponents respectful of both his offensive and defensive skills. He fed Bobby Moore who hardly missed from either outside or inside. Woody Dorsey's 75 inches frequently came in handy in the rebounding department and Jim Baker was a standout performer throughout the season.

The J.V. team deserves all the praise we can give it and more.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Two years ago the idea just of having a freshman basketball team was not given a chance. There were not enough good players to warrant the formation of another team, and one of the few places where freshman competition could be found was in the Catholic League, where the Prep team would be sorely out-matched. But a team was formed, and playing a mixed schedule of teams from the I.A.C., the Catholic League, the C.Y.O., and elsewhere, this team won thirteen games.

This year's team distinguished itself as it played a full Catholic League schedule losing only to a DeMatha team that finished the season unbeaten. The four I.A.C. games, two against St. Stephen's and two against St. Alban's, were all routs. Once against St. Alban's, playing seven minute quarters, without the services of 6'5" Andy Chacos, the Prep's leading rebounder, the freshman team still managed to score ninety points.

What characterized the spirit of the team was the aggressive man-for-man defense. Probably the hardest skill for a young player to discipline himself to, this defense keynoted the team's success. Triggered by the steals of guards Tim Ruane, Don Hathway, Maury Nee, and Fred O'Connor, and sustained by the terrific board-play underneath, the fast break was the way the freshmen most frequently found their way to the basket.

Although most of the team's victories were by sizable margins, the freshmen showed themselves cool under fire. They beat Carroll in overtime and nipped St. John's 63-61 in a fifth extra period.

Probably the high point of the season was in the second DeMatha game. We led much of the way only to lose by five on a DeMatha spurt in the fourth quarter. But being #2 in the #1 basketball town in the nation is not bad. And who knows what the future will bring?

The 4-8 record of this year's varsity soccer team does not record the real spirit, effort, and ability of the team and the players. With only three men back from last year the team lacked sureness in controlling the ball, which was compensated for, however, by hustle and speed. On dry fields Prep lost only once—to Washington and Lee, ranked second in the city, whom Prep beat in a second game. But for most games mud and snow made speed and victory for Prep impossible.

Coach Joe Danek has a young team for next year, and, although senior co-captains Kirk Antoni and Syd Moreland will be missed, the future looks winning.

SWIMMING

This year's swimming team at Prep was the best in three years. Not only did it exhibit good depth, but the abundance of underclassmen bodes well for the future. The team's record of four wins and two losses should bear this out. Beginning with a strong win against Good Counsel's squad, Prep continued its winning ways with its most surprising win over St. Albans. The spirit was high after this much desired victory. Then we took on Loyola of Baltimore, and amazed everyone, including ourselves, by again sweeping in another victory.

The winning streak reached four meets after coming to a head with Cardozo. But this meet was not the pushover as it had been in the last four years. Cardozo developed some new talent and was surprisingly strong in many events. This meet came down to the last relay. But Prep pulled in a clutch when the winning relay of George Beuchert, Mike Keegan, Kirby Weldon, and John Convey exploded Cardozo's hopes for an upset victory.

Third Place—St. Alban's Invitational Meet.

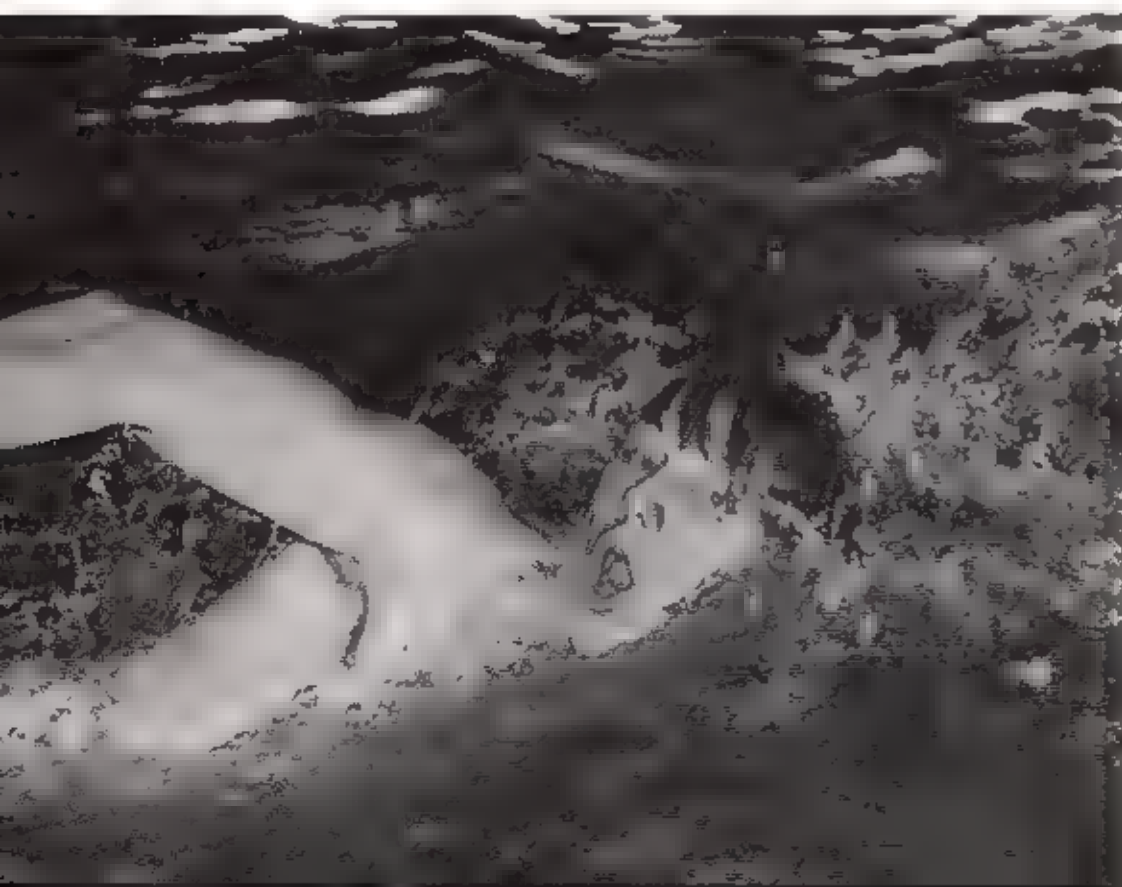

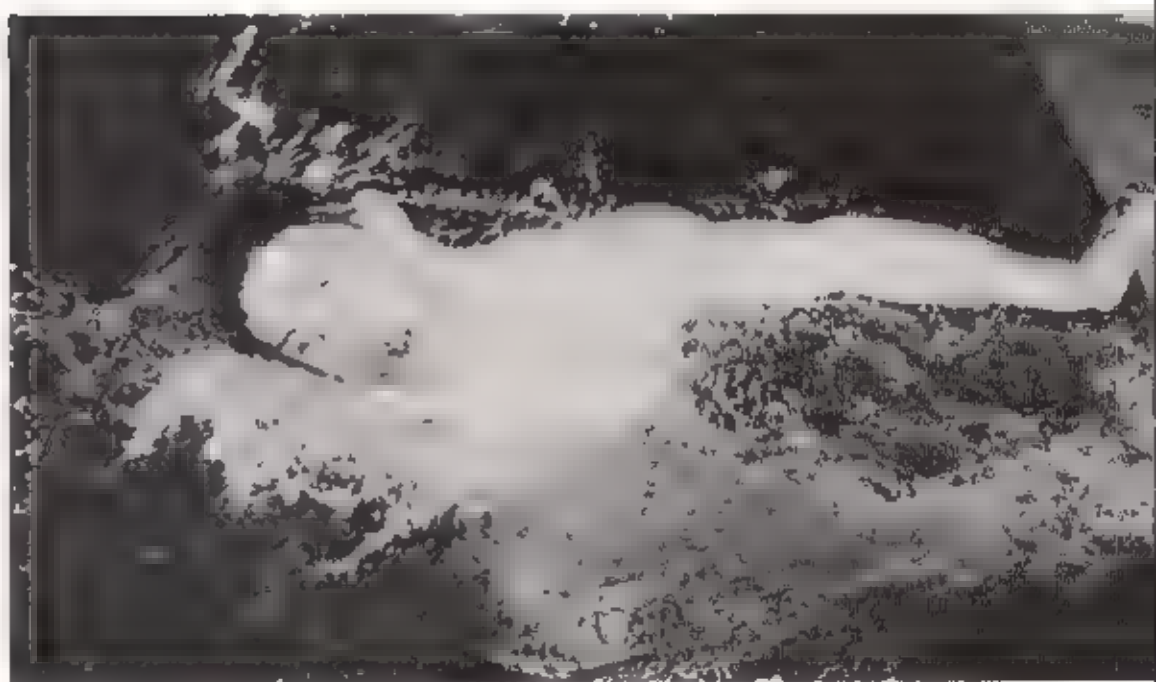

The last two meets against perennially strong Walter Johnson and Walt Whitman High Schools were disappointing losses. But losing as graciously as winning is a part of sportsmanship.

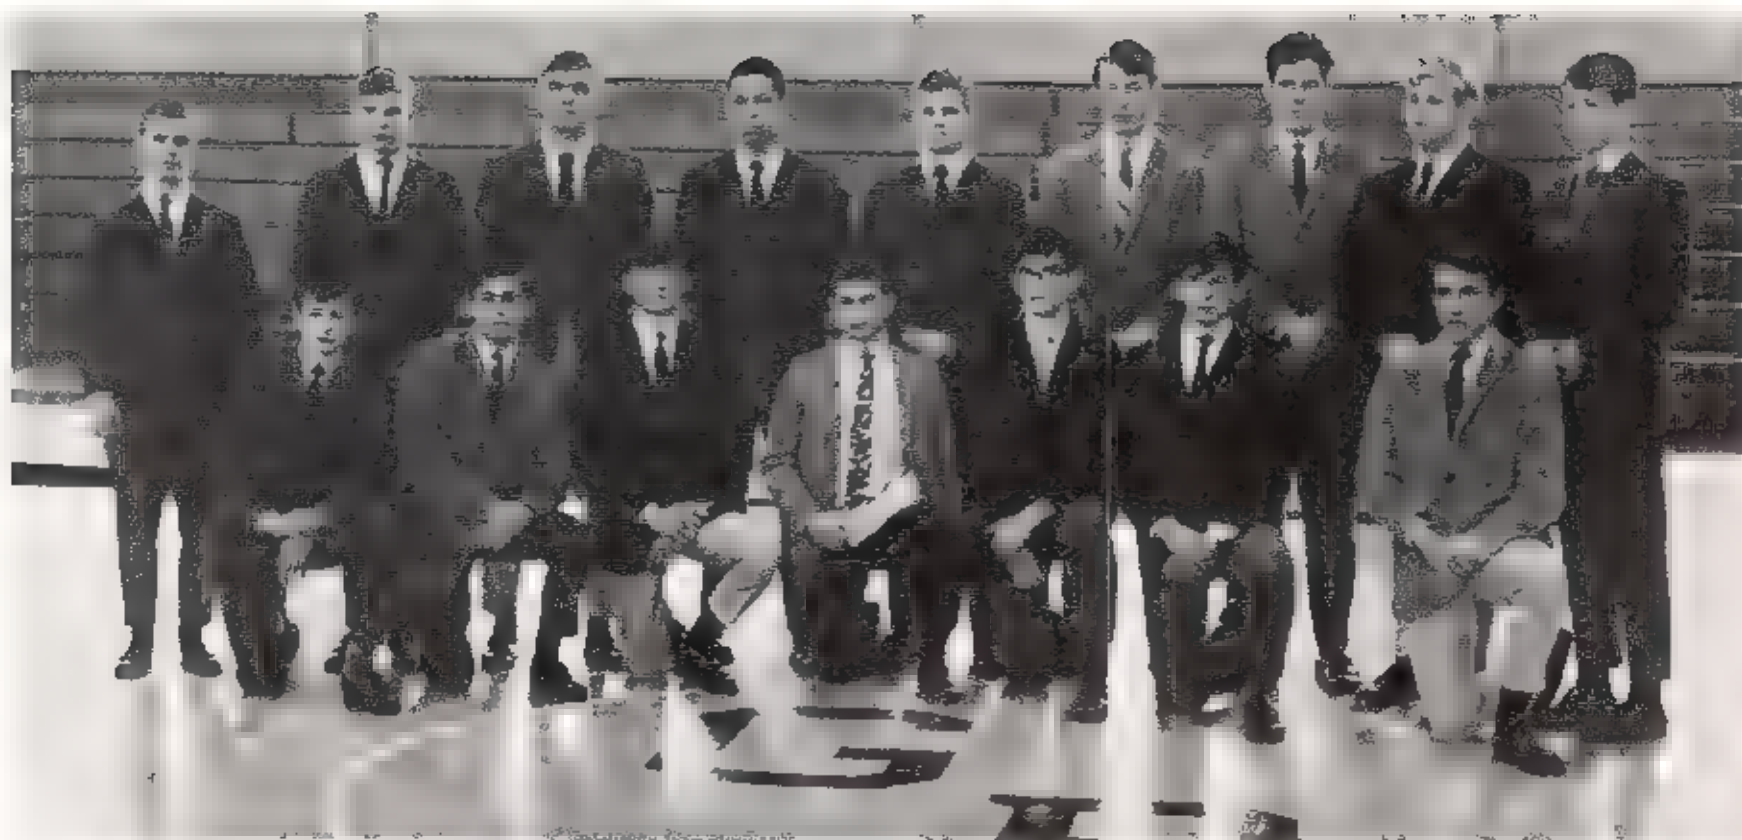

The swimmers who made this year prosperous with their determination and strength were Bill Connole, co-captain, strong in the breaststroke and medley relay, and Rick Hardy, a freshman, who was the main support of the team in the individual medley and the hundred yard butterfly.

Marty Thompson, a surprise in the freestyle department, developed into our leading fifty yard swimmer, and was a member of the four-hundred yard freestyle relay team. Kirby Weldon, after a great year in 1967, injured his knee at Loyola, and never reached his peak, but took part in many events including the four hundred yard freestyle relay. Rick Boyland, co-captain, and fastest at the fifty yard butterfly, helped the medley relay team to many badly needed wins, and also swam the hundred yard butterfly along with Rick Hardy. The other swimmers who contributed many points were freshman John Convey, developing into a strong swimmer in freestyle, George Beuchert, in the freestyle relay, Ralph Norcio in the breaststroke, Ken Crim, in the two hundred yard freestyle, Mike Keegan, who was one of the leading hundred yard freestylers on the team, Greg Willett, our fastest man in the backstroke in both the relay and the individual event, and Mike Colliton in the four hundred yard freestyle. Newcoming freshmen Mike Feeney, Ignacio Huerta, John Reilly, and Pat Colliton show great promise.

All in all, it was a very satisfying and promising year with hope for a future even greater Prep team.

The 1968 Varsity Wrestling Team: Back Row. Mr. Cannizzaro, coach, K. King, J. Wilpers, F. Spellman, R. Van Stockum, J. Meyer, G. Cambell, J. Schwartz, R. Walsh. Front Row J McGrane, G. Poole, R. Haile, J. Glassie, C. Kehoe, J. Ranta, P. O'Neill

Under the expert coaching of Mr. Cannizzaro the varsity wrestling team, despite a slow start, finished the season strong with a 3-1-1 record in the last five matches and a third place in the Bishop Ireton Tournament.

In the first four matches against four of the strongest teams in the area the only consistent performers were heavyweight Gary Cambell and 154 lb. Reggie Van Stockum. Reggie ran up a 12-0 record against the toughest competition in the city.

Prep's first wrestling victory—in five years!—came against Landon at Landon. Prep was behind five points when Kevin King decisioned the Landon co-captain to bring Prep within two points. Quick victories by Frank Spellman, Reggie Van Stockum, and John Wilpers gave the Prep an unbeatable lead.

The highlight of the season came in the final two game matches against Bullis and Einstein. Against Bullis the Hoyas got off to a good start with victories by Johnny McGrane, Bob Haile, Jeff Ranta, and Phil O'Neill. But not until heavyweight Joe Schwartz won a decision in the last match was victory assured. Two days later John McGrane and co-captain George Poole gave Prep a quick lead over Einstein. Prep lost the lead in a series of extremely close matches and was down six points with four matches to go. Then lightning struck as the four remaining Prep wrestlers, John Wilpers, Reggie Van Stockum, John Meyer, and Joe Schwartz, all won their matches with pins, and Prep won easily 29-15.

BASEBALL

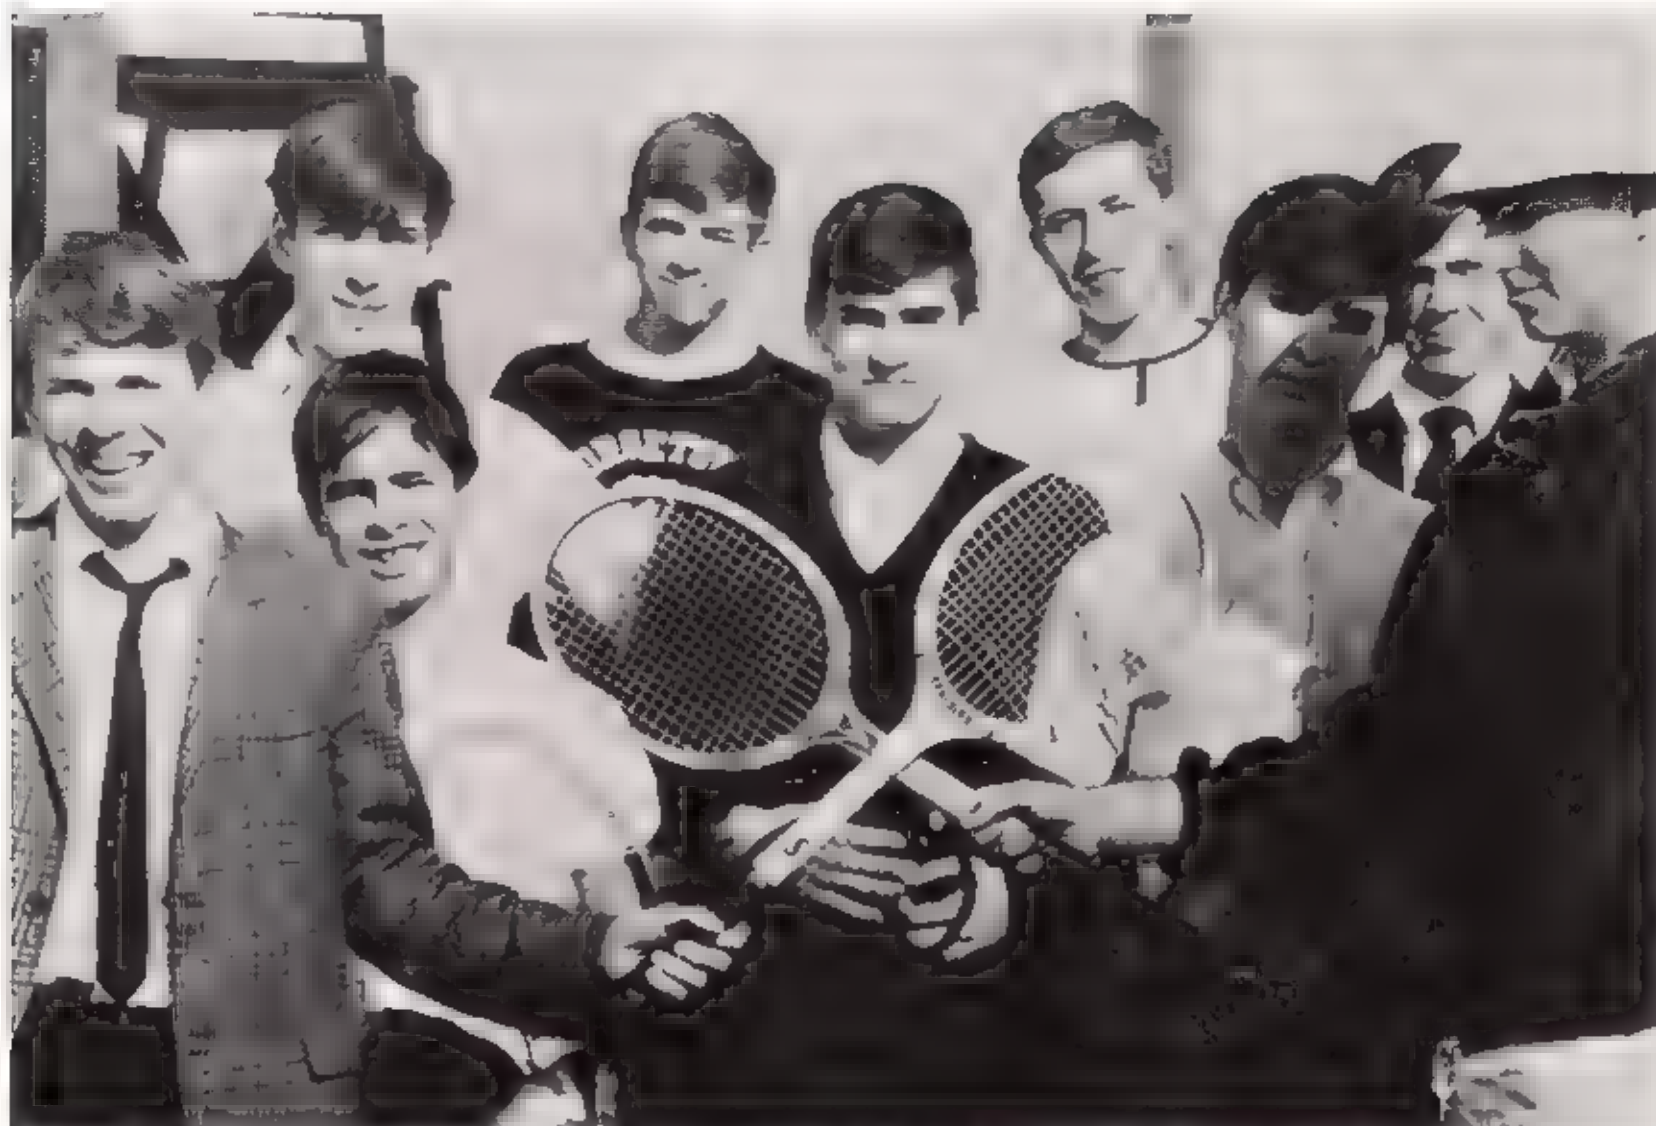

This year's baseball team is trying to match last year's 8-6 mark. Returning this year are seniors Ernie Estevez and Jim Moore, both pitchers, Chuck Hellmuth, shortstop, along with juniors Paul Mackey, catcher, Marc McKenna, third baseman, Luis Casas, second baseman, and Brian Yore, outfielder. From last year's J.V. come outfielders Steve Saxon, Vince Vaghi, and John McKnight, infielders Eddie Cullen, John Burke, and Bob Schneider, and pitchers John Gibadio and Gordy Holahan.

Last year's 8-6 mark was the first winning season in many a year, and it is hoped that this year's experienced infield and the strong recruits from last year's J.V. will make it two in a row.

The 1968 Varsity Baseball Team: Back Row: B. Yore, T. Casey, E. Cullen, J. Moore, L. Casas, M. McKenna, G. Holahan, R. Schneider, J. McCarthy, Mr. Jankowski, coach. Front Row: P. Mackey, M. McKenna, V. Vaghi, K. Weldon, S. Saxon, E. Estevez, H. Bernstein, mgr. Absent: C. Hellmuth.

The 1968 Varsity Tennis Team: C. Ebel, D. Bracken, P. MacLellan, D. Doyle, M. Jenkins, J. Waldron, J. Jeka, H. Dearborn, C. Sands

TENNIS

It will be tough for this year's tennis team to equal the accomplishments of last year's squad, which led by Greg Norris and Tom Ryan brought Prep its first winning season in years. Besides these two starters, Kevin O'Grady, Craig Thomas, and Miguel Firpi were also lost to college.

Among returning players are Charlie Sands, and Chuck Ebel, who last year teamed up with Dan Walsh for some crucial victories. With Ebel and Sands vying for the second and third singles spots, the addition of Jim Baker and Dave Bracken will help fill out the doubles squads.

Mark Jenkins, a junior from Florida who will undoubtedly nail down the first position, and sophomore Pete MacLellan could provide the necessary boost for another winning season. As usual, Landon will be the team to beat in Washington, but since Friends and St. Alban's appear to have rather weak teams, Prep might again find itself battling Landon for the IAC title.

Georgetown Prep's 1968 Varsity Golf Team is looking forward to continuing the age-old tradition of compiling an outstanding record during the regular season, and distinguishing itself in post-season tournaments. The returning players from last year's IAC champions are seniors Jim Hart and Brian Connolly, and sophomore Bobby Moore. Moving up from last year's undefeated JV squad are juniors Bob Sullivan, Paul Fleury, and Vince Burke, all promising prospects. Some of Fr. Murray's other prospective linksmen are seniors Kevin Nealon, a leader of the undefeated JV team in his sophomore year, and Vince Crawford, one of last year's most reliable reserves. Some new faces on the team will be sophomore Frank Dixon and junior Fallon Hanley. From the outstanding performance of both the Varsity and JV golf teams in past years, it seems quite certain that we will repeat as IAC champs. And there is also quite a good possibility that we can take the Private School playoffs and possibly even go on to become the Washington Area Champions. These are high hopes, but with our depth in talent it should be a highly successful season for the golf team.

GOLF

The 1968 Varsity Golf Team: B. Connolly, V. Crawford, K. Nealon, J. Hart, R. Sullivan (in tree), V. Burke.

TRACK

Track team practice has been divided this year so that the three returning varsity lettermen, Joe Sheehan, Sean Hallahan, and captain, John Dennis lead the practices of the sprint, middle, and long distance groups respectively. Experienced long distance runners (from cross-country) Greg Boyland, Brian Conley, John Dennis, Greg Gannon, Mike McCarthy, Carl McGinnis, and Herbie McKnight will hopefully make this area the Prep's strongest. In the traditionally strong Prep event, shot-put and discus, Ken Crim is the only veteran; he will be helped by newcomers Pat Talbot and Woody Dorsey. In another specialty, high jump, John Ricca is the only contender so far. Sean Hallahan will do the pole vault and broad jump, besides running in the mile relay and the 440! It is hoped that Andy Chacos, one of the many freshmen out for the team, will help Sean in the 440. Rick Boyland, Mike Meyer, and Jim Waring will again hop the hurdles, and Mike Colliton and Jack Thaler will lap the 880's.

INTRAMURALS

Mr. Charles Sullivan began his 1967-68 intramural season with football, and immediately broke the age-old tradition of class teams by sectioning seniors into seven-man teams by electives, and juniors by languages, in an added effort to make teams more fair and to provide more fun for all. The senior standings were dominated by Fr. Murray's powerful Physics I squad, led by the strong arm of Frank Spellman and the sure hands of Syd Moreland and Jim Hart. The junior league was more equally divided. The French I and III classes tied for the top spot. Standout gridiron performers were Tom Danello, Vince Burke, Vince Vaghi, and Paul Mackey. All four junior teams, however, fell to the ruthless faculty squad, led by Mr. "Johnny U." Joyce, who "played for fun," receivers Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Sehler, and the relentless rushers, Mr. Williams and Mr. Cannizzaro; valuable specialty service was also logged by Mr. Matt Miskic. All in all, it was a fun season, even though the faculty came out on top.

For the basketball season, Mr. Sullivan adopted the NBA draft system, the NBA names, but not quite the quality of NBA refereeing. Out of all this rose another powerful senior team. The Bulls, led by the rebounding of Mike Sexton and the shooting of Chuck Hellmuth and Steve Hurleigh, breezed past the rest of the field for an unquestioned hold on first place. The junior race, however, saw the Knicks come from behind with Paul Mackey and Gordy Holahan leading them over the once-high Royals, who boasted Tom Danello, Vince Vaghi, and Bob Sullivan.

Adding a new wrinkle to the lineup of intramurals this year was a Syd Moreland program of soccer competition between juniors and seniors, that grew out of the physical education debut of the sport. The general opinion of the students involved seemed to be that it was great fun, and hopefully Mr. Sullivan can incorporate more soccer into the program next year.

All are now looking forward to a softball season that will be as satisfying as last year's enjoyable premiere. And it is rumored that some seniors have already begun to practice.

ACTIVITIES

CUPOLA

This year's Cupola is the end product of a combination of many diverse talents. Quality demands good moderators, a good editor, and literary, photography, and layout staffs all able and willing to consistently produce excellent work.

Our literary staff spent many hours writing and re-writing copy, interviewing representatives of every activity and sport on campus, and fight—the temptation to lapse into banality when the deadline is impending.

The photography staff also made a strong contribution, following every phase of action at Prep and trying to preserve the significant on film. Much of a photographer's work is, like a writer's, undetectable in the finished product. For each picture that is used, much time must be spent in the darkroom, and many other pictures are rejected.

The Photography Staff: B. Grant, R. Suro, A. Baran, J. Dennis, J. Waring.

The Layout Staff: J. Poole, managing editor, B Conley, D. McLaughlin, M. Phelan, K. Groves, layout editor, Mr. Dougherty, moderator.

Another phase of yearbook production whose results are not obvious to the casual observer is layout; it only shows when it is poorly done. Cutting and shaping pictures and copy to fit the framework of the pages, our layout staff has done its best to insure that you do not notice the layout in the 1968 Cupola.

But even the best yearbook will not sell itself. Our business staff's battle to sell the yearbook to the students ended successfully when the edict came down from the administration: yearbooks could be put on the book bill. With the war half won, they turned to the task of selling ads. The fact that you are reading this now is evidence that the yearbook staff has done its job—not perfectly, to be sure, and not without some frantic moments, but well enough to provide a sense of satisfaction. This sense of satisfaction comes from the creation of a record of 1968, a capturing of the essence of Georgetown Prep, and this is sufficient reward for the members of the Cupola staff.

The Business Staff: D. Kelly, A. Nahas, A. Cooper, co-business manager, Mr. Williams, moderator, T. Birkel, J. Hart, co-business editor. Absent: T. Casey.

The Current Events Club: P. O'Donoghue, A. Oberhofer, N. DeJesus, Dr. Locher, moderator, R. McDonnell, P. Schuler, Unidentified, M. Cavanaugh, J. Colon, J. Sullivan, G. Beuchert, K. Abel, H. Bernstein, J. Convey, C. Kehoe.

Plus: I. Cardozo, G. Rees, A. Scanlan.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

One of the most successful of this year's fledgling activities has been the Current Events Club. Under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Paul R. Locher, the Club has been extremely active. Among its projects this year have been a trip to the Maryland Constitutional Convention, a tour of the White House, and a visit to the Capitol. In addition, the weekly meetings have been both informative and enjoyable, leaving the members with a strong sense of accomplishment.

The Current Events Club is led by a two-man steering committee composed of seniors Al Scanlan and Phil O'Donoghue; other standouts in the Club were Pete Schuler, Rocky Rees, Mark Cavanagh and Iggy Cardozo. But the success of the Current Events Club is largely due to the efforts of Dr. Locher.

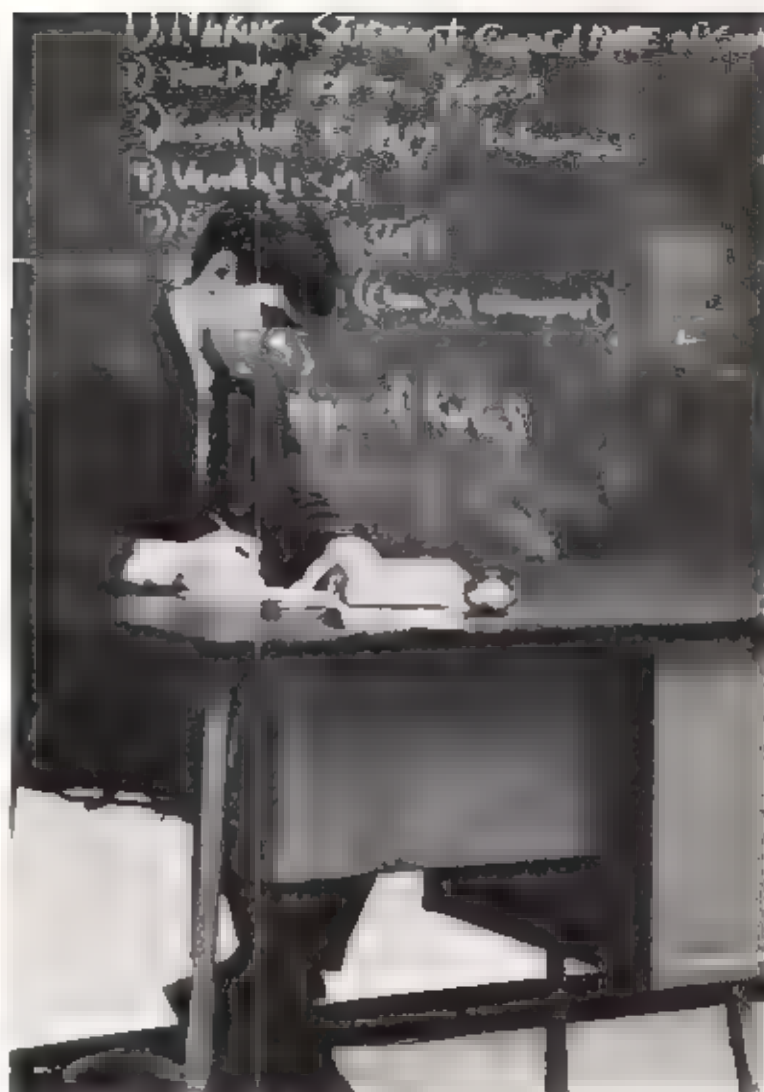

The Club promises to be one of the most popular activities at Prep for years to come.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This was a building year for the Student Council. Much of the year was spent in establishing guidelines, redefining positions and generally looking over the situation. Although very little was accomplished in terms of concrete action, valuable insights were gained, particularly in the field of the place of the Student Council within the framework of school life.

Among the accomplishments of this year's Student Council were exchange programs, a canned-food drive, and a Safe Driving Day. Under the dynamic leadership of President-of-the-Yard Mike Schroder, with the able guidance of Father Simmons, the Student Council has proven itself to be one of the most valuable activities in the school.

President of the Yard Mike Schroder

The Student Council: V. Kommer, P. DeCamara, K. McMahon, H. McKnight, A. Baran, A. Scanlan, T. Perraut, G. Rees, G. Gannon, P. Kenney, S. Dixon, J. Donohue, J. Hart, Fr. Simmons, moderator, P. Talbot. Absent: J. Wilpers, vice-president of the Yard

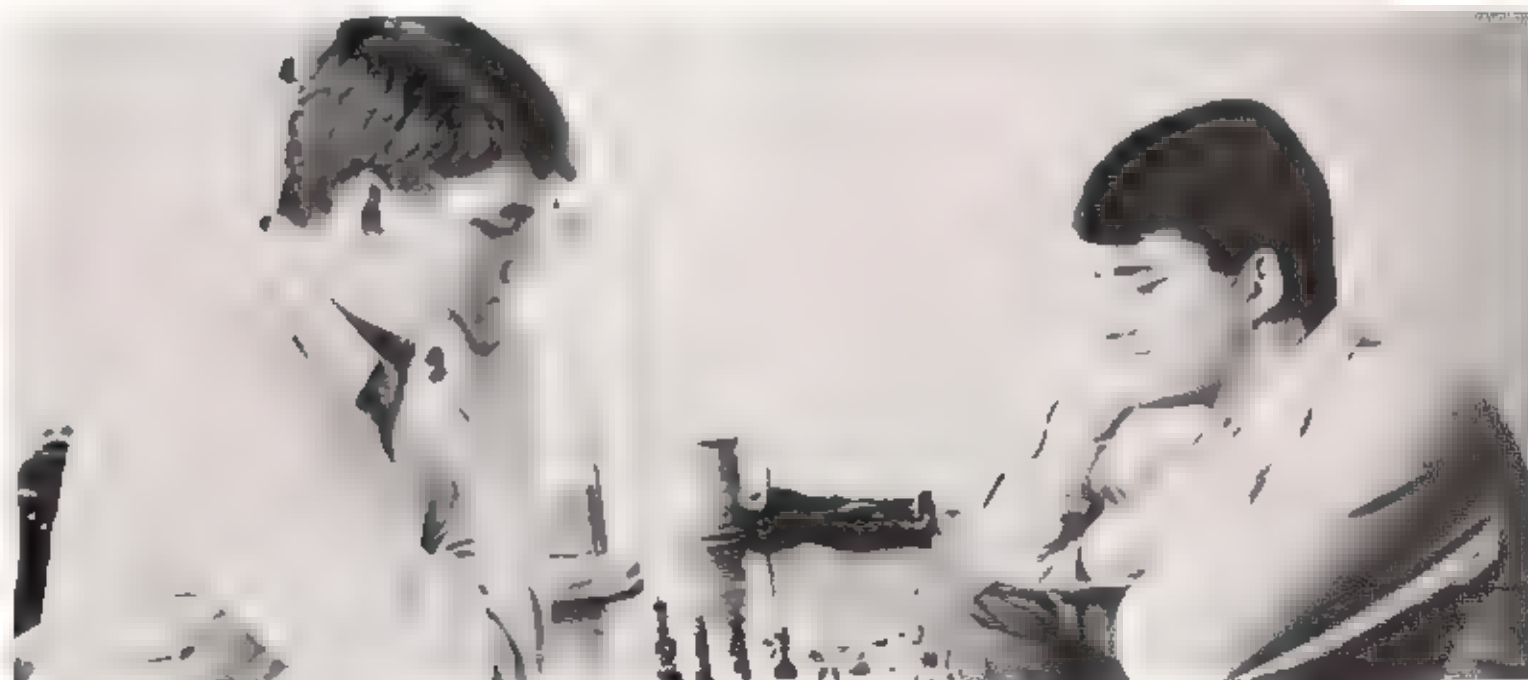

Chess Club: R. Wagner, J. Meyer, J. Morgan, G. Rees, V. Crawford, president, D. Doyle, R. Donahue, vice-president, R. Little, treasurer. Absent: G. Guthrie, secretary, P. Schuler, C. Recio, R. Shea, P. Doohar.

CHESS CLUB

Several years ago a few students tried to organize a chess club at Prep, but the effort failed due to lack of student interest and lack of a moderator. This year a new chess club has been started, moderated by Mr. Homayouni. To spark interest, a tournament has been arranged and challenges have been sent to other schools. As a result, Prep's first chess match was scheduled against Sidwell Friends, which Prep won, 4-1. The club is trying to foster interest among the underclassmen, in hopes of continued existence next year. We hope that the new chess club will catch on and become another institution at Georgetown Prep.

Vince plays a game with an old friend.

The Drama Club: A. Calventi, R. Rees, H. Straus, J. Deikel, K. Donohoe, A. Scanlan, M. Fittipaldi, J. Hagan, W. Asbill, B. Edwards, P. Peartree, Mr. Adler, moderator.

DRAMATICS

This year the Drama Club has consistently proven itself to be one of Prep's most dynamic activities. Under the direction of Mr. James Adler, the thespians have undertaken several productions, perhaps the most promising of which is the Spanish Civil War drama, "The Secret."

Spirit has been extremely high all year in the Drama Club; one of the chief motivating factors is the hope of a repeat performance of last year's theater party at Mr. Adler's apartment.

"Gosh, Emily, I didn't know you felt that way!"

The Glee Club: J. MacFarland, J. Hall, A. Keefe, M. Phelan, W. Sharek, R. Wagner, S. Boland

This year's glee club, under the leadership of Mr. E. Joyce, has been the first in the history of the school to experiment with types of music not usually expected from a high school glee club. After long hours of practice, they have developed a contemporary sound which can be appreciated by all ages. Their repertoire includes both folk music and traditional tunes. It is, however, composed mostly of popular songs selected from the top 100 hits of the year. The members seem to enjoy this type of music most, and they do very well for this reason. Their rendition of "To Sir With Love" is especially excellent.

After a warm welcome from the parents at the annual Father's Club reception, they performed three songs, each representing a different type of music. Receiving the most favorable response was "Try To Remember" from the musical "The Fantasticks". After this, they led the audience in the singing of Christmas carols. This performance marked the beginning of a new breed of Glee Club at Prep, characterized by more original selection of songs and by the excellence of execution which comes from well-directed practice under the guidance of a talented leader.

GLEE CLUB

BOOSTERS CLUB

The purpose of the Boosters Club is to act as a service organization for the school, and to bolster school spirit. This is accomplished primarily by making posters for athletic contests, activities and dances, by conducting pep rallies during football season, and by supplying cheerleaders. The Boosters Club, whose officers are Syd Moreland, President, Tony Baran, Vice President, Greg Gannon, Treasurer, and Al Milanese, Secretary, also runs the canteen, directs traffic, and aids the Alumni Association in holding their various affairs. One of Prep's oldest organizations, the Boosters Club is also one of the most useful.

The Boosters: A. Waterworth, G. Troutman, V. Bernardin, W. Waring, R. Little, M. Sakala, T. Keeley, L. Townsend, W. MacDonald, P. Peartree, B. Connolly, P. Talbot, T. Cormack, K. Antoni, J. Baran, K. Osgood, J. O'Connor, C. Pflueger, V.

Kommer, A. Baran, vice-president, J. Carter, G. Gannon, treasurer, H. McKnight, S. Moreland, president, K. Groves, M. Siemen, J. Hall. Absent: A. Milanese, secretary.

The 1968 Varsity Debating Team: C. Recio, R. Shea, Mr. Sauter, moderator, P. Kenney, I. Pessoa, R. Suro, R. Day.

DEBATING

"The Supreme Court is clobbering law enforcement with undue restrictions "

"Organized crime is rampant; wiretapping is the only solution."

"Policemen are confused by chaotic laws—it is imperative that Congress enact a uniform code."

All of these propositions were debated as part of this year's topic: Resolved: Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures.

Under the direction of Messrs. Schler and Sauter, this year's group has had outstanding success in several debate tournaments, although they have not yet achieved first place. The varsity teams of Pete Kenney and Bob Suro, Neal Sarahan and Mark Jenkins have all entered the finals in tournaments held at St. John's, La Reine, and Carroll. Junior Division members Richard Shea, Carlos Recio, Mike Pucillo and Chris Cameron have had similar success

There has been a comparatively large turnout for debating this year and as a result it has served as a profitable experience for the individual participants.

The rest: C. Cameron, J. Price, M. Feeney, J. Dobricky, N. Sarahan, Mr. Schler, moderator, M. Pucillo, R. Hardy.

The underclassmen are to be congratulated for their exceptional initiative this year. Their contribution to the literary field at Prep is The Hoya Saxa; a relaxing news magazine which is a refreshing change from the harried pace characteristic of these times. Under the expert guidance of Mr. James Joyce, S.J., The Hoya Saxa has gained many avid followers in this, the magazine's first year of existence. In years to come, it may become a rival with the Blue and Gray for popularity among the students. With such a strong start, The Hoya Saxa is very likely to become a welcome permanent fixture here at Prep.

HOYA SAXA

BLUE AND GRAY

The Blue and Gray has a "new look" again this year. Under the creative, albeit somewhat eccentric, wing of Mr. Eugene Nolan, S.J., the former "literary magazine" is evolving gradually into what it now purports to be—a "student publication." And, in many ways, it is. This year's Blue and Gray is largely the work of a small group of highly dedicated students. It diverges dramatically from the traditional concept of a high school publication, in that its contents generally have nothing whatsoever to do with Georgetown Prep. Its claim to the title "student publication", then, is based more on the fact that it is written by students and for students, rather than about students.

Among the subjects treated in the Blue and Gray this year are the '68 Presidential elections and some "Commonplace" events around Washington. Throw in student art, photo essays and a face-to-face interview with a genuine, bona fide hippie by the name of Speltz, and you have the potpourri which has come to be the Blue and Gray.

The 1968 Blue and Gray staff and contributors: T. Comack, G. Willett, P. Talbot, G. Rees, R. Suro, J. Waring, M. McKenna, A. Milanesse, editor, J. Baran, J. O'Connor, A. Baran.

"I wonder what it meant by that."

COMPUTER PROGRAMMING

A small room on the top floor of MacKavanagh Hall has become a second home for a group of Prep's students. Dubbed the "Garrett Park Computer Center", it is the location of Prep's first teletype link to a multi-access computer. The keyboard is kept busy many hours a day by students typing and running their programs. Chiefly responsible for the interest is Fr. D. Bradley Murray, who does the school's programming and arranged to rent the teletype and share computer time with 39 other clients of CEIR, the company which owns the computer. Fr. Murray introduced an optional course in computer programming last year, and many students are seeing their studies pay off as they advance in programming skills. The computer, a GE 230, has already shown itself quite adept, easily mastering the game of tic-tac-toe and figuring out the prime numbers from 999,999,000 to 1,000,000,000 in a few seconds. Easy problems, like those given in jug, it does instantly! If the interest keeps up, Prep may have its own computer in a few years

Bill Connole tries to outwit the computer.

MATH CLUB

One of the new organizations at Prep is the Math Club. It was established early in November, and since then it has enjoyed increasing popularity. At the weekly meetings members attempted to solve many of the problems that have puzzled mathematicians since the beginning of time. With much stress placed on the historical developments in mathematics, members obtained a fuller knowledge of the structure of the Queen of Sciences.

Initiative in the group was amazingly high, with members often staging graphic demonstrations of mathematical principles and applications. Students in the group often posed difficult problems for one another, and proceeded to solve them with a strong sense of competition. With the 1968 school year drawing to a close, the Math Club has left many Prep students with a strong sense of accomplishment, as well as a greater feeling of confidence in their own ability.

Math Club members: R. Mathe, W. Kehoe, J. Poole, J. Reilly, V Crawford, A. Wen.

Social Action participants. L. Rich, Fr. Burns, moderator, V. Bernardin, M. McCarthy, A. Cooper, R. Siro.

This year the social action-minded students at Prep have shifted their emphasis from group meetings with Negro teenagers in order to foster interracial understanding, to actively helping the poor families improve themselves and their position. Small groups of students went to the homes of the underprivileged and tutored the children in the basic subjects: arithmetic and reading.

Although we have tried to help these children with their school work, our true goal was to give them a better appreciation of their own merit. Many of them came from broken homes; fatherless, they had little respect for men. We hoped to establish a firm man-to-man relationship with them in order to help them learn a better meaning of manhood.

On the surface, it seems that we have been successful. The children's schoolwork has improved and they seem to be more conscious of their worth as individuals. Whether or not we have truly accomplished what we wanted cannot be determined today, tomorrow, or even next year. If only one or two of these boys grow into better men than they would have been without us, or if one becomes a more mature, constructive community member than he would have otherwise, we shall have succeeded.

The 1968 Sporting News staff: M. McKenna, H. Bernstein, P. O'Donoghue, L. Andris, editor, Fr. Simmons, moderator, V. Burke, G. Willett, G. Gannon, V. Vaghi.

SPORTING NEWS

This year at Prep a new organization was established. Unsatisfied with the merely occasional attention that could be given sports in the Blue and Gray, Phil O'Donoghue and Vince Burke founded a Sports Club. From this grew The Sporting News, edited by Leon Andris and enthusiastically moderated by Fr. Simmons. Since its beginning in November, The Sporting News has issued editions on more or less a weekly basis. The reporting has focused not only on school events, but on sports in general, especially those things which are of unusual interest in the Washington area. The quality of the writing has improved with each edition, and it is hoped that in the years to come The Sporting News will become one of the Prep's most influential publications.
